Essay on If I Were a Principal

The proper functioning of a school depends upon its management by the Principal. He is generally a man of long experience, high qualifications, and a pleasing personality.

If I were the Principal of a school. I would do all I can for the mental, moral and physical development of the students. I would bring about certain changes to create a healthy atmosphere in the school. I would look to the sanitation of the school and insist on regularity and punctuality both among the teacher and the taught. For the mental development of the students, I would try to improve the instructional conditions.

On the physical side, I would make games compulsory for all. I would impress upon them the necessity of physical training for health and efficiency at work. I would look to the up-keep of play-grounds for the regular practice of games.

For the moral development of children, I would see that proper discipline is maintained in classes. The students obey the school rules, behave well, and inculcate good habits. They keep neat and clean, do not waste their time, and are regular at studies.

I shall provide proper facilities to the students and teachers. The toilets will be properly cleaned. The library will be well equipped. There will be a swimming pool, gym, etc. in school.

Extra classes will be arranged for weak students. Awards will be given to the teachers who give a hundred percent result.
